Off the Job Safety 2001

Why are we having this Seminar?

Home accidents account for 40% of all accidents and there are around 4000 deaths every year in the UK, due to accidents in the home.

Most accidents are caused by human error and most can be avoided. The overall aim of the Seminar is to reduce accidents in the home by:

- ① highlighting the cost of home accidents
- ① assisting and encouraging employers to find out innovative ways to address this problem
- ① facilitating a partnership approach to "off the job safety"
